

“Light Warrior” by Dylan Tauber, from his album “He Loves Carmen”

Lyrics and Vocals by Anastasia Derkach in Ukraine, during the war, March 16, 2022

Following my way, I’m trying to catch little stars
Praying world to be blessed, I light up the loneliness hearts

Despite heartless attacks I give peace to the blue sky
I run away from fear, and to world’s pain I’m just telling “bye”

I’m a light warrior
I’m a light warrior x2
I don’t name as “my friend” war
I’m a light warrior

I don’t know where I will be tomorrow , but in peaceful place
Darkness will not cover the full Earth, and here will be grace

Despite heartless attacks I give peace to the blue sky
I run away from fear, and to world’s pain I’m just telling “bye”

I’m a light warrior
I’m a light warrior x2
I don’t name as “my friend” war
I’m a light warrior
